Andhra Government and Microsoft signed first of its kind partnership, will do skill development training of all 1.62 lakh students in state

In a major initiative, state government has roped in Microsoft to take up skill development training for the college students and unemployed youth in the state. Microsoft has agreed to provide training to about 1.62 lakh students from 300+ colleges and skill development centers in the coming one year.

With an aim to create a holistic and scalable skilling experience that includes access to learning content on Microsoft’s learning resource center, Microsoft Learn, educational webinars, experiential learning through hands-on lab exercises, and industry certifications courses from Microsoft and LinkedIn. A Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) was signed at a virtual conference held.

This is considered to be the biggest and first of its kind initiative by any government to cover the entire graduated youth of the state. The move is aimed at accelerating the digital skilling of the youth to enable them to employable in the industry.
